LETTER FROM [illegible]

Portland, Oregon, July [illegible]

[illegible] mountains [illegible] With [illegible] I travel [illegible] Nevada.

Our point of departure was Sacramento, and the distance to Portland from there is 6[illegible] miles, [illegible] north. [illegible] ward in the Sacramento valley about [illegible] miles at Oroville we began the stage [illegible] still for another 10[illegible] miles in the broad [illegible] valley of the Sacramento and its tributaries [illegible] earth [illegible] Butte and west of [illegible] prairies [illegible] though [illegible] with old oak groves [illegible] in all [illegible] valleys. [illegible] with Gen. Bidwell, one of the pioneers [illegible] in 1841 [illegible] the parent of [illegible] owner of [illegible] in the [illegible] of 26,000 of [illegible] for cultivation. [illegible] bushels in 1864 from 900 acres of [illegible] at the average rate of [illegible] and his wheat [illegible] 30 bushels per acre. The general average [illegible] valley is 2[illegible] bushels. [illegible] their principal crops [illegible] 100 acres. A large [illegible] concerns, and his product is the favorite [illegible] the State. All [illegible] illustrative [illegible] wealth and of the [illegible] the country that [illegible] Bidwell still [illegible] fresh and [illegible] and intends [illegible] Washington during his congress [illegible] and the ladies of capital society?

On through a like productive country, [illegible] streams [illegible] growth of trees and vines along [illegible] bordered with vales, by farms and [illegible] in grains and fruits we make our first night ride, passing in the gray morning [illegible] town of Red Bluffs, which is [illegible] the head of navigation on the Sacramento river—some 40 miles from its mouth—and a central point of commerce for all northern California and southern Oregon, and at the present [illegible] of the widow and daughters of the [illegible] John Brown. They struggled in here weary and poor from the overland journey, but found a hospitable greeting from the citizens and have secured a permanent home. A subscription among the Californians generally will give them [illegible] cottage. Mrs. Brown earns [illegible] as a successful nurse and doctor, particularly [illegible] children; her two older daughters are teachers in the public schools, and the younger [illegible] a pupil.

Now the valley grows narrow, the mountains east and west [illegible] among each other, and for the [illegible] among 200 miles of California and the first 20[illegible] of Oregon, we are winding among the hills and following up [illegible] narrow valleys, first of tributaries of the Sacramento, and then of [illegible] streams, Trinity, Klamath, Rogue and Umpqua—that steal their way among the [illegible] scattered and mingling ranges of coast and Sierra Nevada west [illegible] Shasta and Yreka are the two [illegible] villages of importance in California, with perhaps fifteen hundred inhabitants each. Born of rich placer gold diggings in neighboring valleys and gulches, but bereft of half of their former population by the discovery of more tempting fields elsewhere and the inherent [illegible] of gold seekers, they present a [illegible] of unoccupied stores and houses [illegible] nearly every other of the interior mining towns of California. Their [illegible] now seems beginning, however; a more careful and intelligent working of the gold soils and banks proves them still profitable [illegible] richly [illegible] are coming in [illegible] satisfied with smaller returns than the white [illegible] and best of all agriculture, hitherto despised, is asserting its legitimate place as the base of all true and [illegible] prosperity. The valleys, though small, are fruitful, and many of the hillsides are equally [illegible] in grain and fruit. These [illegible] of northern California and southern Oregon [illegible] of apple, pear and grape [illegible] large [illegible] making prosperity of [illegible] the Pacific coast.

Beyond Shasta [illegible] valley [illegible] and orchard of great fruitfulness, which [illegible] to be the [illegible] and the proprietor, Mr. [illegible] whom [illegible] Springfield people [illegible] 15 and 20 years [illegible] will remember as [illegible] prominent armorer [illegible] company and a [illegible] young man [illegible] when he cast in his fortunes with the first emigration to California. After years [illegible] downs that belong to nearly every experience on this coast he has become prosperous [illegible] stout [illegible] Springfield memories [illegible] and is yet a bachelor. Two of his sisters [illegible] only [illegible] last year 1,000 bushels [illegible] apples and grapes [illegible] among the miners in the mountains around and in the villages north and south.

Along here [illegible] mountains [illegible] rare majesty, snow peaks [illegible] and 14,000 feet high [illegible] Mount Shasta, monarch of the Sierras in northern California [illegible] its vast hills of snow [illegible] height [illegible] a king [illegible] peaks of the world.

[illegible] first [illegible] Yreka and Shasta [illegible] diggings [illegible] The Chinese [illegible] among the population [illegible] the State [illegible] shows well enough that [illegible] to wash the gold [illegible] of the valleys.

The scenery of the region [illegible] single objects, Pilot Knob, a great chunk of rock [illegible] standing on a mountain top [illegible] Mount Shasta [illegible] to 1,000 feet high [illegible] seen from all quarters, it has been famous as a pilot to the early emigrants in their journey [illegible] the mountains. The hills are rich with pine forests, and these grow thicker and the trees larger and of greater variety, as also the valleys widen and seem more fertile as the road [illegible] Oregon. [illegible] the pines and grow to similar size, 100 and 200 feet high and three to five feet [illegible]

[illegible] valleys [illegible] the perpetual winter and [illegible] of the traveler.

The [illegible] Rogue and Umpqua rivers present [illegible] grape and the [illegible] Oregon [illegible] Mr. Applegate [illegible] But farming [illegible] 12 tons [illegible] the Willamette [illegible] This is the Willamette river and valley [illegible] Oregon [illegible] emigrant [illegible] the State [illegible]

[illegible] the sealed winter.

Eugene City, Corvallis, Albany, Salem, Oregon City and Portland are the chief centers of population [illegible] the Willamette valley [illegible] we passed them coming down the Columbia; Salem, the State capital, and [illegible] thriving inland town. Here our party had a State reception. Here I met our old Democratic brother editor of Westfield, Mr. Asa[illegible], who has made a fortune here and [illegible] power in the politics of the State, [illegible] in the Douglas [illegible] Senator, but failing to keep progressing in the right line [illegible] himself dethroned by the Union and Republican possession of the State, and is in retirement from newspaper and business, and meditating Eastern emigration. Here [illegible] of Blandford origin and Chicopee [illegible] has grown into just distinction [illegible] of the supreme judges of the State, but has his present residence [illegible] beautiful farm on one of the neighboring foot hills, where also he has [illegible] and put in successful operation a woolen mill. And from here also we took steamboat passage fifty miles to this town, the commercial [illegible] business center of the State, and half rival to San Francisco itself, and the only other town [illegible] of prominence on the Pacific coast, that [illegible] signs of steady, uninterrupted prosperity at this moment. At Oregon City, on our way hither, we paid respect to the original capital of the territory, inspected a new and extensive woolen mill that cost $75,000 in gold, and were rowed around the falls of the Willamette, which, though not a brilliant feature in the natural scenery, offers temptations and almost inexhaustible water power for the manufactures that the agricultural productions of the State invite, and the enterprise of its citizens is already eagerly and wisely reaching forward to.

Portland, by far the largest town of Oregon, stands sweetly on the banks of the Willamette, 12 miles before it joins the Columbia river, and 120 miles from where the Columbia meets the Pacific Ocean. Ships and ocean steamers of highest class come readily hither; from it spreads out a wide navigation by steamboat of the Columbia and its branches, below and above. Here centers a large and increasing trade, not only for the Willamette valley, but for the mining regions of eastern Oregon, Washington Territory on the north, and parts even of British Columbia. Even Salt Lake City has taken groceries and dry goods through this channel, and may yet find it advantageous to buy more and continuously, such are the attained and attainable water communications through the far extending Columbia. The population of Portland is about 7000. They keep Sunday as well as in New England, and as no other population this side of the Missouri now does; real estate, as you may infer, is quite high—$400 a front foot for best lots 100 feet deep on the main business street, without the buildings; in religion, the Methodists have the lead, and control an academic school in town and a professed State university at Salem; the Presbyterians are next, with a beautiful church and the most fashionable congregation, and favor a struggling university under Rev. S. H. Marsh (son of President Marsh of the Vermont university), located 20 miles off in the valley; and perhaps the Catholics rank third, with a large Sisters of Charity establishment and school within the city; Gov. Gibbs, the present chief magistrate of the State, resides here, and though a lawyer, owns and runs a successful iron foundry that imports its material from England, though undeveloped iron mines are thick in neighboring hills; a single daily paper has 1500 circulation, with a weekly edition of 3000 more; and altogether Portland has the air and the part of a prosperous energetic town, with a good deal of eastern leadership and tone to business and society and morals.

The Columbia river and the country it waters, its navigation, and its scenery, already famous, though rarely seen by eastern eyes, must wait another letter.

The Daily Oregonian.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE.

FRIDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 3, 1865.

The Annexation of Walla Walla County to Oregon

It would seem from the reports and publications that reach us relative to the annexation movement in Walla Walla that a portion at least of the people of that county are really in earnest upon that subject. We regard it as a matter not undeserving of attention. We are not sufficiently posted in regard to many details of the subject to pass a definite and final judgment upon it. We have a few suggestions to make regarding it, however, and some reasons for and against it.

It will be recollected that when Washington Territory was organized in 1853 the tract in the bend of Snake river above the forty sixth parallel was put into that territory. When our Constitution was framed in 1857 our Convention made the Snake river the boundary, thus taking that tract of land into Oregon. Congress saw fit to change it so as to make the forty sixth parallel the boundary of Oregon, and restore the tract in question to Washington Territory. Since that time the Walla Walla country has been settled and the natural advantages and the real conveniences and inconveniences of the locality ascertained. The settlers there now ask to be annexed to Oregon. Is it best for all concerned that their request be granted, and how ought it to be done?

It seems not unlikely that these questions will arise in a practical shape in our Assembly and in Congress.

We find in favor of the scheme on the part of the State of Oregon a large accession of valuable territory, well adapted to most branches of agriculture and stock raising, and destined to be the seat of great wealth and material power—the addition of several thousand people to our population and a considerable increase to the revenues of our State. By annexation the river would form a natural boundary, and the conflicts of jurisdiction, the frequent escape of criminals by an easy passage from one jurisdiction to another would be in some degree prevented, and the administration of justice be made easier, speedier and more certain. By having the river for a boundary, the trade of Oregon by water between the upper Snake river and the Columbia, if it shall be found practicable, will be exempt from the regulations, or possibly unfriendly policy of a neighboring State. As a local question, annexation will no doubt, be beneficial to Eastern Oregon, by increasing the number of representatives in the Assembly and the votes for member of Congress, which it is to be presumed will be in sympathy with the local feelings of that section. Annexation will not be advantageous to the Willamette valley in case of any strife between the sections for political supremacy or commercial superiority.

As a party question, it will add several hundred votes to the opposition and materially weaken the Union party of this State. It will increase the expenses of our State Government and require a second judicial district east of the Cascades. Perhaps the increased expense would more than equal the additional State revenue.

To have it fairly done there should be the consent of the Oregon Legislative Assembly, of the Legislature of Washington Territory, and of Congress. If these three bodies shall agree that it be done, we say to the Walla Wallans, come in and let us do each other good.

SOUND DEMOCRATIC DOCTRINE.—We can also tell our friends, that we must all buckle on our Democratic armor afresh, and become alive and active in disseminating wholesome truths among the people.

The above is from an article which the Reporter endorses as "a sound Democratic opinion." We suppose if the Reporter man is sincere, not only "truths" but "wholesome truths" will now flow through the Democratic channels. We may therefore expect to have the readers of the Democratic papers correctly informed of the gallant murders of Union men or women in East Tennessee by chivalrous "Democrats" before the war had fairly begun—of the high-toned murder of tens of thousands of Union soldiers by a gang who were true "Democrats" before the war, and are suing for pardon in order that they may again vote the "Democratic" ticket—of the abject servility of nearly all the "Democratic" leaders to the traitorous leaders of the South—of the anti Republican and oligarchical tendencies of both "Democratic" policy, and "Democratic" principles as now expounded! Go on, virtuous "Reporter," give the people, without stint, wholesome truths, all the wholesome truths and nothing but the wholesome truths, and we will hail you as our efficient and faithful ally in the destruction of that greatest of all political shams, the modern democratic party, (or, rather, faction) which feeds on nothing but old traditions and modern lies, and, being crammed with these, it utters great, swelling words, and, parrot like, cries out "Great is Democracy."

"The Statesman is the only paper which has so far sustained the Collector in his contest with these fellows. In fighting an organized band of smugglers, and heavy monopolists, the Oregonian has never dared or desired to say a word in favor of the Collector."

The above paragraph from the last Statesman is incorrect. It is either a wilful attempt to misrepresent the course of this paper in the matter of the seizures of the Orizaba and Active, or the writer of it has not read the OREGONIAN. We never failed to sustain the Collector in the discharge of his duties.

IN A CRITICAL CONDITION.—We learn from Mr. Joseph Engel that the boy James Simmons, who shot himself accidentally at Belpassi recently, is not expected to live. He is in a very painful and critical situation, and life is despaired of by his parents and friends.

INDIAN TROUBLES.—A gentleman, just down from the Yakima, informs the Mountaineer that the Indians in Kittitas Valley have forbidden a party of immigrants, numbering about a dozen families, to settle in that valley. The Indians stated that they were willing that the whites should herd stock there, but they were determined not to permit them to build houses or make improvements with a view to engaging in agricultural pursuits. The land in question has been ceded to the United States, and the insolence of these savages should be vigorously repressed. The lax administration of Indian affairs for some years past is breeding a feeling of insubordination which will yet have to be quelled with actual military force if not taken in time. It is of the greatest importance to citizens in this part of the country that security shall be given to settlers north of the Columbia. If this could be done, that section would rapidly fill up with an industrious class of people.

The London Times is now a days extremely anxious to appear as the warm friend of the United States. In a recent leader it not only denounces the depredations of the Shenandoah and shares in the indignation of the Americans against her, but actually calls on the British Government to assist the United States in stopping her outrages,' and to instruct English ships of war to treat the Shenandoah as any other pirate. Do the editors of the Times still hope for the payment of their Confederate Bonds?

IRON MANUFACTURES.—The following statistics of iron manufactures in the Middle States in 1860 is from the Census Report compared at the Land Office. Railroad establishments 46; capital invested $2,037,850; cost of raw material $2,61[illegible],911; male hands employed 2,431; cost of labor, $885,656; annual value of products $4,[illegible].

THE FIRST.—It is but little known that the first anti slavery paper started in the United States was published in East Tennessee. It was called the Emancipator and published at Greeneville, the home of President Johnson, by Benjamin F. Lundy, a Friend in religious faith, and a native of Belmont county, Ohio.

DATES TO OCTOBER 31.

From the South

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. [illegible].—General C[illegible] has issued an order prohibiting negro troops mustered out of the service from purchasing their arms.

Well informed gentlemen from Mississippi say a great deal of cotton is still there and a great quantity of it is being shipped to Memphis for [illegible] New Orleans or Mobile. Much [illegible] held [illegible] central Texas [illegible] from Mississippi that the freedmen will not work.

Effect of Events South.

NEW YORK, Oct. [illegible].—The Herald's Washington special says [illegible] the action of South Carolina in electing Wade Hampton Governor, [illegible] of the State and [illegible] the payment of the rebel war debt, and Mississippi in refusing to [illegible] and pass the [illegible] has affected the future policy of the [illegible] States and [illegible] to have endangered the admission of their delegates in the next Congress. Had Mississippi cheerfully passed the amendment a general amnesty would have at once been declared in favor of the rebels, but now but a few amnesties will be granted [illegible] that State the [illegible] and the reign of military government and martial law will be the consequence.

Remains of Col. Dahlgren.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—The Herald's Washington special says: All members of the [illegible] corps having papers of service in that corps are requested to forward them to General Chamberlain at Brunswick, Maine.

Col. Dahlgren's body has arrived, and two veteran regiments will escort the remains to the City Hall, where they will lie in state.

Negro Mutiny in Jamaica.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—The [illegible] prints the following: The Havana steamer arrived at this port this afternoon, and brings [illegible] news [illegible] uprising [illegible] in Jamaica against the whites. Her Majesty's consul at this port [illegible] in St. Thomas. Many revolting murders had been perpetrated by the negroes. A white Magistrate had been shockingly mutilated. His tongue and [illegible] were cut out and burned. He was then murdered, and after which a negro woman ripped open his bowels. The mutiny was spreading rapidly at last accounts, and the greatest alarm prevailed among the whites.

Miscellaneous.

NEW YORK, October 31.—A correspondent of the Herald states that the steamer [illegible] Heath for New Orleans, which was towed into Hampton Roads on Sunday, was a complete wreck.

The English capitalists gave a banquet to their American friends last night.

The [illegible] special says it is understood that Secretary McCulloch will recommend Congress to substitute a tax on sales for the Income tax.

It is probable that an important change in the Premiership caused by the death of Lord Palmerston will be discussed before the Senate so far as it relates to the Fenian organization.

The Herald's Washington special says Mr. Tarlont, formerly President of the Bank of Tennessee, and an applicant for pardon, was loudly declaiming last evening at a hotel, against the justice of any interference in the matter of the Southern States paying their debts.

The Freedmen's Bureau is making an extensive report relative to the school system among the freedmen. Several bogus notes of large denomination have been received at Washington having passed through the hands of several of the sub-Treasurers.

The President has not taken the Wirtz case yet.

The late fire in the Michigan Central Railroad freight depot in Detroit caused no detention of their business facilities—for handling freights it is as good as ever.

From Mexico.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—A Mesilla (Mexico) letter of the 1st, to the Herald, states that Juarez was then at El Paso, and the French were on their way to that place, and were expected in a few days.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 31.—Gen. Steele arrived from the Rio Grande to-day. Despatches from Weitzel to Steele of the 2[illegible] say a fight occurred around Matamoras which lasted three hours. The Liberals succeeded in carrying part of the works, but the Imperialists charged and retook the works, punishing the Liberals severely. The Imperial loss is several wounded and less than a dozen killed. The Liberal loss is fifty nine taken prisoners and a large number killed and wounded. Gen. Espinocha, second in command of the Liberal forces, was killed. Reports from Brownsville state that at last accounts the Liberals were flying, closely pursued by the Imperialists.

European News—Death of Lord Palmerston.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—The steamer City of Boston from Liverpool, the 18th, via Queenstown the 19th, arrived this afternoon. The steamer United Kingdom, twenty four days out from New York, for Glasgow, arrived at Reithmillon with her machinery disabled.

Lord Palmerston is dead. He had been seriously ill for some days from the effects of a cold. His symptoms had been very alarming, but he steadily improved. On the night of the 17th, however, a bulletin was issued to the effect that he had become worse since morning, and that it could not be disguised that he was seriously ill. Telegrams were constantly being sent to the Queen, at Balmoral. Lord Palmerston would have completed his 81st year on the 20th of October.

The Paris papers say the deaths from cholera in that city are averaging two hundred per day.

California News.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2.—Henri Roquette de Kerguida committed suicide yesterday at the California Hotel, by taking laudanum.

The California Steam Navigation Company's new river steamer [illegible] will probably be launched on Saturday from the Potrero. She is said to be the finest river boat on the Pacific coast.

One of the workmen engaged in excavating on the southwest corner of Kearny and Sacramento streets came across an old tin oyster can and a package, the two containing five fifty dollar slugs and quite a number of twenty dollar pieces. The discovery caused quite an excitement in the neighborhood.

The dome of the Mechanics' Pavilion on Union square fell last evening with a terrific crash. The [illegible] of the pavilion had previously been taken down, leaving the dome standing on stilts.

A light shock of earthquake is reported to have occurred this morning.

A complaint has been made in the Police Court charging J. [illegible] A. Robinson with the crime of bigamy, alleged to have been committed in October 20th, 1864. The facts appear to be that previous to his second marriage Robinson obtained a decree of divorce from his first wife in Utah Territory, and the whole issue in the present prosecution is as to the legality of that divorce.

The charge of larceny preferred against the two young girls Day and Hall by Sarah Palmer, the keeper of a den on Post street, was this morning dismissed by request of the complaining witness. The girls have [illegible] conflicting stories.

George Easton, a stevedore, was knocked overboard from Mission street wharf yesterday by a bag of grain. He broke two of his ribs and sustained other painful injuries.

Judge Cowles this morning heard the motions of William Harrison and Edwin Whipple, convicted of gambling, for new trials, and ordered them to appear for sentence on Saturday next.

The celebrated "[illegible]," who has figured in nearly every sketch or caricature of San Francisco life for several years past, died last night.

The Markets.

The Stock Market continues dull with a general sliding of prices. At the morning Board [illegible] 180 shares selling at prices ranging from $1[illegible] to $18[illegible] [illegible] regular. Yellow Jacket declined $2. Alpha and Hale & Norcross each $1[illegible]; [illegible] $12[illegible]; Daney, 50; Chollar, 50; Occidental, $[illegible].

Legal Tenders 12 bid and 17 [illegible] asked.

Butter—[illegible] choice New York 49[illegible] [illegible]; Lard, 200 cases private, [illegible]; Isthmus 12 [illegible]; [illegible] smoked bacon [illegible] 29[illegible]. Whisky—[illegible] fine [illegible]. Raisins—200 boxes California layer raisins [illegible] was [illegible] 50. This [illegible] lot of 100 boxes raised on [illegible] by [illegible] grapes called [illegible], and in appearance the fruit is equal to the best Malaga. We understand that arrangements have been perfected to enter upon the cultivation of this fruit on an enlarged scale next season. Flour—a fair trade on the basis of $6 [illegible] bbl for standard extras and $[illegible] superfine in quarter sacks. Wheat—[illegible] market; holders demand $2 for prime samples with $1 9[illegible] per 100 lbs offered. Small sales at these figures. Barley—in good demand at current figures; sales of [illegible] sacks at 97½@$1 02½ per 100 lbs for feed and brewing. Oats are quiet; sales of 200 sacks of inferior at $1 [illegible] and 400 do good at $1 4[illegible]@$1 50 per 100 lbs.

Sailed—steamer Orizaba for Portland.

We are curious to test the sincerity of the [illegible] who are so much [illegible] their arguments [illegible] the laws [illegible] thought [illegible] laws are really thrown aside [illegible] sists that President Johnson [illegible] Brownlow for what are called [illegible] Tennessee. Will Brownlow [illegible] Johnson's [illegible] Parker of New York [illegible] the President [illegible] power [illegible] don't mind [illegible]

Seizure of the Orizaba

ASTORIA, October 30, 1865.

EDITOR OREGONIAN:

I see by your paper that you are complaining because the steamship Orizaba was seized on Saturday, the day on which she was advertised to sail for San Francisco. [illegible] that the seizure made [illegible] could have given [illegible] at the hour advertised. These [illegible] the facts. Had the [illegible] it would [illegible] If she had [illegible] her arrival at [illegible] Thursday morning, she would have been [illegible] Bringing her cargo at [illegible] could have been landed [illegible] taken [illegible] When the [illegible] Custom House [illegible] Attorney was absent, and I did not return till late Saturday afternoon. I permitted Capt. Burns to unload his vessel before making the seizure, for the very purpose of facilitating his departure, and I know of no other [illegible] in this case, than that of the [illegible] on such a way that neither steamer was detained in Portland one moment longer than was absolutely necessary. The United States attorney had the steamer libelled at the earliest possible moment after her arrival in Portland. The [illegible] complaint [illegible] While I am determined to enforce the law, I wish to put no unnecessary [illegible] and inconvenience [illegible] departed from my usual course in asking you to make this statement public, as I am aware that there has been a strong excitement in the public mind as to [illegible] that the [illegible] will have [illegible] seizure [illegible]

The Bowman To the Public

Mr. Editor: Allow me space to say that I will attend to the [illegible] false [illegible]

The proprietors of that paper, finding the public will not sustain their wholesale abuse of [illegible] seeks an honorable investment in an [illegible] have resorted to the selling off [illegible] to secure a living support for their sickly [illegible]

For myself, while abundantly assured that, by honest and persevering effort [illegible] shall win success and [illegible] I only ask that the enterprise [illegible] stand or fall on its own merits.

F. M. WALL.

Portland, November 1865.

Labor South.—Immigration Societies have been started in Virginia, Georgia and, we believe, North Carolina and Louisiana, making good what years ago was said of a Southern demand for Northern and foreign labor. Instead of the negroes coming North to displace the foreigners, foreigners are wanted South, not really to drive out the freedmen, but to take the place of white men who have fallen in the war. But there has always been in the South a want of hands, and there will be no end to the demand for opportunities of labor.

Among other extensive works proposed by the people of that flourishing town Kansas City is the construction of a bridge across the Missouri for the [illegible] Railroad.

A firm in Illinois have recovered a verdict of $9,250 against the Great Western Railroad Company for the destruction of their warehouse by sparks from a passing train.

The New Gun at Vicksburg.

BY PHEBE CARY

Our Generals sat in their tent one night,
On the Mississippi's banks;
Where Vicksburg sullenly still held out
Against the assaulting ranks.

They could hear the firing as they talked,
Long after set of sun,
And the blended noise of a thousand guns
In the distance seemed as one.

All at once Sherman started to his feet,
And listened to the roar;
His practiced ear had caught a sound
That he had not heard before.

"They have mounted another gun on the wall;
'Tis new," he said, "I know;
I can tell the voice of a gun, as a man
Can tell the voice of his foe."

"What! not a soul of you hears but me?
No matter; I am right;
Bring me my horse! I must silence this
Before I sleep to-night!"

He was gone, and they listened to the ring
Of hoofs on the distant track;
Then talked and wondered for a while—
In an hour he was back.

"Well, General! what is the news?" they cried,
As he entered flushed and worn;
"We have picked their gunner off, and the gun
Will be dislodged at morn!"

From the Upper Country.

We are in receipt of files of papers from the upper Columbia country through Wells, Fargo & Co's Express, from which we glean the following:

Some assorted ores from the Poorman lode at Owyhee, are reported to be worth more than half silver.

One hundred feet of the Morning Star, first extension South, lately sold at Owyhee for $30,000.

Four hundred feet of a spur of the Oro Fino lode, Owyhee, was sold for $15,000.

There is no place in Silver City to confine the drunk and disorderly, and the Grand Jury of Owyhee county recommend a look-up, built for that purpose. The citizens of that place say that the best place of confinement, that can be devised, is a wagon body, turned over a prisoner, and loaded down with cord-wood. Several drunkards have been confined in this way, and complain that it is very cool.

A man named Lewis killed David Peevey, on the Middle Fork of John Day, on the 22d of October, in a difficulty which arose about a mining claim. Peevey was shot, stabbed and his head beaten to pieces with a hammer. Lewis was permitted to escape.

The quartz mining interest at South Boise is receiving a new impetus from the operations of capitalists from the Atlantic side. Col. O'Neal's eight-stamp mill is completed, and has made one or two runs on rock from the Ada Elmore, which, while not as rich as it was generally expected to be, was very satisfactory. The Idaho mill, ten stamps, has been running all summer, and, as report goes, is doing remarkably well. This lode and mill have been bonded to Major Spear representing a Pittsburg company, at $140,000 fifty days being given to make payment. Major Spear bought Cartee, Gates & Co.'s mill, and has a mill in process of construction on Elk Creek for the same company.

On the 16th of October the first white man killed in Alturas County, Idaho, by violence met his death. Charles Ridgely killed John Ewing. Both were formerly of Walla Walla. It appeared on an investigation of the case, that the killing was in self-defense, and Ridgely was acquitted.

The Joe. Daley is the name of a ledge recently discovered in the Yuba District, which guarantees a fortune to its holders. The Joe. Daley is about three miles from the famous Atlanta, in a northerly direction. One of the locators knocked off the top of the ledge a piece of rock weighing seven pounds, which being subjected to an assay, gave $1,09 in gold, and $2,55 in silver, yielding at the rate of $1,041,04 to the ton.

The Yuba district will be within a short time one of the most important mining points in Idaho. The Atlanta lead in this district is from fifteen to twenty-five feet in width, and from all appearances is very rich for the distance of a mile along the course of the lead. The Jessie Benton is said to be a very large and rich lead, and a large number of others. There can be no scarcity of quartz in the district as the leads are very large. It is a well timbered, and watered country and offers great inducements to capitalists.

Important discoveries of gold and silver bearing quartz have been made six miles up the Middle Boise, nine miles above Alturas City, to the north east of Atlanta Hill. Six lodes have been prospected and found rich—assaying from $100 to $900 a ton, principally in silver. The silver is found in blue sulphurets, and the rock is remarkably free from baser metals and combinations of substances calculated to impede assimilation and amalgamation. The lodes are of great size and very regular in formation; ranging from twelve to twenty-four feet in width. In many places they crop out from five to fifteen feet. They are easy of access from the road that runs up the South Boise, and have all the conveniences of location requisite to easy development and cheap working; constituting one of the most valuable and extensive discoveries ever made in Idaho Territory.

Great expectations are entertained of the prosperity of the Pioneer City, Boise basin camp, next season, notwithstanding many of its citizens are temporarily absent in Montana. The new ditch of Wilson & Co., taking the water of Grimes Creek to a much greater elevation than at present, will cover an extensive country which prospects well, but which has never been worked for want of water.

The October term of the Idaho District Court was to commence on the 23d of October, at Idaho City, Judge McBride presiding. There is estimated to be 150 cases on the calendar. There are but four unfinished criminal cases to be disposed of. Ferd. Patterson is one of them.

Pack-trains are loading again at Walla Walla for Blackfoot that have made two complete trips since the first of June.

Mr. R. H. Johns, at Walla Walla, offers to give security to clear out the obstructions on the Mullan Road for $10,000. The people of Walla Walla should see to it that they have the Mullan Road opened, as no goods can be taken into Montana by way of Fort Benton until July.

The best time ever made over the Walla Walla Course was made at late races, by Dasher, running a single mile in 1:52¼. The course is eight seconds slower than the Multnomah Course.

From the quarterly report of the treasurer of Boise county, Idaho, respecting the collection of taxes and licenses for the quarter ending Oct. 6, it is shown that $13,218 13 was collected as the property tax for the year 1865. The total amount collected, from licenses, etc., amounts to $23,701 43.

The Idaho World says: Staple goods continue to arrive in large quantities at Idaho City. Everything comes via Umatilla. The Chico route may be said to have fairly pegged out, notwithstanding the government has furnished any quantity of troops to protect the route. The weather has been, for a month, the most magnificent that one could desire, and almost precisely similar to what it was two years ago. There is no sickness of any kind in the camp, and the doctors are all starving to death.

The citizens of Lewiston are discussing the propriety of opening a road to intersect the Mullan road about twenty miles east of the Cœur d'Alene Mission. The distance from Lewiston, by the point of intersection with the Mullan road will be about one hundred miles; from thence, one hundred and thirty miles to Hellgate, and from thence, one hundred to Blackfoot City. In all, the distance will be three hundred and thirty miles. But before this route can be made available, there will have to be a large expenditure of money. It has been examined by the United States engineers, and Captain Mullan once started to build his road around the south side of the Cœur d'Alene Lake, over pretty much the same ground. He abandoned the project, because he deemed the route utterly impracticable. But for all that, he may be wrong, and there may yet be found an excellent route for a wagon road over the country in question.

The Walla Walla Statesman was presented last week with a lot of peanuts, raised by Mr. Angus McKay, in his garden, adjoining the city. The nuts were rather above the average size and well matured. Mr. M. says the nuts produce about as well here as in any climate where they are raised, and he intends to experiment more extensively next year in raising them. They should be planted he states, in hills about five feet apart, and when the vines bloom, the blooms should be covered up with earth, as it is these that produce the nuts. The blooming season continues for three or four weeks.

The Reese brothers announce their retirement from the Walla Walla Statesman. Mr. R. R. Rees has been in the business since the paper started, now nearly four years ago. One of the editors, Mr. Northrup, died in February, 1864, and his interest passed into the hands of S. G. Rees. The establishment is now the property of W. H. Newell, late of the Dalles Mountaineer.

The Idaho World is of the opinion that the wealth of Blackfoot, Prickly Pear and other parts of Montana, is "imaginary," and that some thousands of wanderers, may have an opportunity this winter to realize its true value while chewing the cud of hungry reflection.

Fare Wood, of Colville, writes as follows to a citizen of Walla Walla, under date of October 9th, concerning the mines on upper Columbia: "Our claim on Carnas' Creek is paying from $15 to $20 to the hand per day. Nearly all the miners have left there and gone to French Creek, where the miners are doing well. Henry LaFour writes us that his claim is paying well, he having taken out 105 ounces the two days before writing—over twenty ounces per day. But few claims were opened, but all prospect well. About one hundred claims were staked off and taken up. The miners are complaining of rain, saying it has rained the most of the time all summer. In September it rained almost incessantly, day and night, and weather warm. But few will winter in the mines. Most of the claims are laid over until next June."

No snow had fallen, at the last accounts, on the Mullan Road, in the passes in the mountains.

From Montana.

The Post of October 14th, has been received from the city of Virginia, Montana, through the United States Mail, from which we make extracts as follows:

Our citizens may expect soon to see some Montana flour, the product of the first flouring mill of Messrs. Cover & McAdow, located in the Gallatin Valley; as we are informed by Mr. McAdow, that the mill is nearly completed and will be in running order in a few days. Montana can produce in abundance the three great staples, flour, vegetables and meat, and there is a certain fortune for all and singular of the wise individuals who choose to follow the parent of agriculture. The [illegible] which has, with few exceptions, attended the labors of those who have undertaken the raising of crops in this Territory, is merely an index of what we may expect when the many thousands of acres now taken up shall be cultivated in the next and following years.

On Wednesday the streets of our city were overrun by "red brethren" of the Pend d'Oreilles, Flat Heads and Nez Perces, from the Hell Gate country. The [illegible] encamped about three miles from town, on Ten Mile Creek, and number over 1,000 warriors with 3,000 ponies. They state that they are going on a buffalo hunt. A good deal of trading has been done with them. Several of our citizens paid their respects to the "lords of the soil" at their camp.

Rumor declares that 11,000 Indians are at Fort Benton. [illegible], we opine, are larger than the number of the savages; but there is a goodly gathering we doubt not. General Meagher goes to meet them, in order to pay their annuities. That part of their duty which relates to the reception of supplies is always punctually attended to by the redskins, and any supposed deficiency is made up by a levy on the first batch of emigrants that travel the road thereafter.

General Meagher has made a requisition on Gen. Wheaton, now at Fort Laramie, for a full regiment of cavalry for this Territory. Montana, along with Nebraska and Dakotah, constitutes the district commanded by Gen. Wheaton.

On Powder river, between Montana and the Missouri, recently the Second Californian Volunteer Cavalry found six hundred gray horses tied to a picket line and shot through the head. They were supposed to be extra horses belonging to Colonel Cole's Sixth Missouri regiment. The saddles were burnt, and also a wagon. They thought that the animals had been purposely destroyed to prevent their falling into the hands of the Indians. A very large Indian camp had been there. General Connor dispatched scouts to ascertain the cause of the killing of the horses and the burning of the saddles and wagon.

Some 6000 persons lately started down the Missouri river in what was termed the Yellowstone Fleet, on the homeward passage. The fleet sailed [illegible] during the first day. The long string of Mackinaws occupied over an hour in rounding to, one after another, and lying up to the bank. The whole were laughing, cheering and exhibiting a hearty appreciation of the novel and comfortable method by which they were rapidly approaching home, which last hear from.

A shooting affray took place in Deer Lodge county, on the 5th, in which a man named Morrow was instantly killed, by G. B. Clark. Clark will be tried for the homicide.

The Post has the following on the state of society in Montana: "The idea that a great deal of trouble will be caused by Vigilance Committees is simply nonsense. The prevention and punishment of crime is the object of the Vigilantes. Murderers, thieves, desperadoes and road agents will have a lively time of it, no doubt; but that anyone will suffer from prejudice, or otherwise than as a punishment for desperate crime, and as a measure of stern necessity, we do not believe. No one was ever hanged at Blackfoot, so far as we know, though single executions of malefactors have occurred at Helena, the story of sixteen men swinging from one tree is simply a lie. One organization embracing every nook and corner of Montana, is all that we ever heard of, and such we believe must be the fact, for we were informed that their placards were posted in about fifty different and distant localities on the same night. The papers of the West supply the reason of the prejudice against the stampeders from the Pacific slope. The burning and sacking of Idaho City, the Port Neuf Canyon massacre, 60 homicides in one county, without one capital conviction, &c. these things, coupled with the fact that every bloodstained miscreant has come to Montana from the "other side," are enough to create a prejudice against men who openly proclaim their sympathy with such men as Plummer, Stinson, Ray, Helm, Gallagher, Ives, & Co., calling them perfect gentlemen. For the energetic and enterprising men who comprise the bulk of the citizens of the West, the people of Montana entertain none but the kindliest feelings; but for murderers, thieves desperadoes and road agents, Montana offers no homestead larger than seven feet by two.

It is said that the worst feature of the Blackfoot country is the class of men who are there. No mines have been discovered since the early days of California that have been so universally applauded. Everybody seems to be intending to go there; but provisions and goods are very scarce and high there, and supplies should be taken. There are a great many men in the mines who are doing nothing; but they all seem full of hope, as the mining country extends over one hundred miles and new strikes are being made all the time. Complaints are made of the immigrants, who hold about ten times as much as they should and will neither work themselves nor sell to those who would work.

The winters of Helena are said to be as mild as in Walla Walla, but at Blackfoot City they are very severe.

Sheriff's Sale.

BY virtue of an execution and foreclosure of mortgage to me directed, issued out of the Circuit Court in favor of Ladd & Tilton, and against the Portland and Milwaukie McAdamized Road Company, being a balance on a judgment obtained in the Circuit Court on the 4th day of March A. D., 1865, by the plaintiffs, and against the above named defendants, said balance amounting to $1,227.37 [illegible] twelve hundred and twenty seven dollars and thirty seven cents, in United States gold coin, together with interest from the 5th day of April, A. D., 1865, at the rate of one per cent a month, costs, &c., I have this day levied on the following described real estate to satisfy the above execution and costs, it appearing that all the property as set forth in the decree and foreclosure, was sold at sheriff's sale, on a former execution, on the 6th day of April, 1865, a strip of land sixty feet in width along the line of its road, across the land of defendant, situate in the county of Multnomah, State of Oregon, and known as being that part of Sections Nos. 22, 26 and 27 in township one south of range one east of Willamette meridian, known as the donation land claim of Hector Campbell, excepting a strip from the south side of said claim, containing about sixty three (63) acres which on the 21st day of April 1860, was conveyed by said Campbell and wife, to John H. Wall, the center of said strip of sixty feet being the centre of the McAdamized road, of the plaintiff, containing about seven (7) acres of land, and will proceed to sell the same at public auction in front of the Court house door, in Multnomah county, on Thursday the 16th day of November, A. D., 1865, between the hours of 9 A. M. and 4 P. M. to the highest bidder for United States gold coin in hand paid.

JACOB STITZEL,
Sheriff of Multnomah County, Oregon.
Portland, Oct. 18, 1865.

Sheriff's Sale.

BY virtue of an execution to me directed, issued out of the Circuit Court in favor of A. Cahn & Co. and against J. F. Stribling, I have this day levied on the following described real estate: part of Section 20, T. 1 N., R. 2 E., containing 160 acres, situated in Multnomah county, Oregon, and lot [illegible] in block No. one hundred and seventy seven [illegible] in the city of Portland, in Multnomah county, and will proceed to sell the same at public auction on Thursday, the 16th day of November, A. D. 1865, between the hours of 9 A. M. and 4 P. M. in front of the Court House door, in Multnomah county, Oregon, or so much thereof as will be sufficient to satisfy the above execution and costs, amounting to about ($675 00) six hundred and seventy five dollars.

LUNG BALSAM!

The Remedy for Curing

CONSUMPTION, COUGHS, COLDS,

Asthma, Croup,

Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppression of the Chest and Lungs, Difficult Breathing and all the Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

ITS ACTION IS EXPECTORANT, ALTERATIVE, SUDORIFIC, SEDATIVE, DIAPHORETIC AND DIURETIC, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectoration, and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus, CHANGES THE SECRETIONS AND PURIFIES THE BLOOD, heals the irritated parts, gives strength to the digestive organs, brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect, that it is WARRANTED TO BREAK UP THE MOST DISTRESSING COUGH IN A FEW HOURS' TIME, if not of too long standing. IT IS WARRANTED to give entire satisfaction even of the MOST CONFIRMED CASES OF CONSUMPTION! IT IS WARRANTED NOT to produce costiveness (which is the case with most remedies) or affect the head, as it contains no opium in any form. IT IS WARRANTED TO BE PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, although it is an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system. THERE IS NO REAL NECESSITY FOR SO MANY DEATHS BY CONSUMPTION, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it if only taken in time.

☞ Sold by all Druggists. Price $1 per bottle.
